

JEFFREY FEULNER

Men's Divorce Law Firm

“Fathers, Families, Fairness.” At its core, this is the mission statement of the Men’s Divorce Law Firm. Jeff Feulner, the firm’s founder and managing attorney, understands that this statement is more than just a motto—it is the guiding philosophy he follows for all his clients. Many of the fathers and husbands that Jeff represents begin their case with a presumption that, in the face of a divorce, their role as a father will inevitably be diminished. Jeff and his team are dedicated to showing each of his clients that relationships may end, but fatherhood doesn’t have to.

Jeff’s path to becoming a family law attorney began at the age of 19, when he first became a father. Determined to succeed parentally as well as academically, he went on to graduate from Rollins College in 1995 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Organizational Behavior, and subsequently received his Juris Doctorate degree from the Florida State University College of Law in 1997. Over the course of his journey, from a young father just starting out, to the experienced professional he is today, he gained not only an expert familiarity with Florida family law but a personal understanding of the unique obstacles and challenges his clients face.

In 2004, Jeff founded the Men’s Divorce Law Firm. Since its inception, the firm has helped over six thousand of Florida’s husbands and fathers receive the legal help they need during what may be one of the most difficult and emotionally taxing moments of their life. Since the firm’s founding, Jeff has been awarded a distinguished AV Preeminent Rating from Martindale-Hubbell, which acknowledges lawyers with the highest ethical standards and professional excellence. The firm was also awarded a “10 Best Family Law Firm” distinction by the American Institute of Family Law Attorneys and a “Top 30 Matrimonial and Family Law” award by the National Advocates in 2020. Jeff is 10.0 AVVO Superb Attorney rated, a Lawyer of Distinction, and one of America’s Top Lawyers as recognized by the American Law Society.

As a boutique family law firm, the Men’s Divorce Law Firm handles family law matters and only family law matters. This means that Jeff’s clients, and the complicated cases that they have, receive the attention of attorneys and staff who are exclusively focused on the constantly evolving field of family law. The firm’s caring and professional team is committed to keeping open and clear lines of communication with his clients. When clients hire the Men’s Divorce Law Firm, they are at ease knowing that their calls will be returned promptly, and each aspect of their case will be explained clearly to them along the way.

There truly is no case too big or small for Jeff and his team to handle. His clients have ranged from husbands who need a simple, uncontested dissolution of marriage to those who are professional athletes or business owners and require a complex distribution of property, assets, and liabilities. However, it’s not just husbands who enlist Jeff’s services. Florida fathers who need to establish their rights and ensure substantial time sharing with their children can count on Jeff and his team to help them achieve the outcome they desire. While specific results cannot be promised, a respectful attorney-client relationship and thoughtful, informative legal representation is. No matter the individual, and no matter the complexity of their case, all of Jeff’s clients are treated with respect, compassion, and a level of world class service that they deserve.

730 Vassar St., Suite 200, Orlando, FL 32804 | 321-DIVORCE | www.mensdivorcelaw.com